Church of God Presents Pageant

South Bay Church of God, 17661 Yukon Ave. will present its outdoor Christmas pageant for the fifth time this year.

The pageant featuring biblical and caroler costumes of the 1900s is given annually as a tribute to the "Christ of Christmas."

The performance will be given twice nightly at 7 and 8 p.m. beginning this evening and continuing through next Wednesday.

Music for the background of the narration was recorded by the Chancel Choir of the church assisted by youth singers from the Clarion Choir.

Geraldine Liming accompanied at the organ, Carolyn Aoki played the flute during the shepherd scenes, and La Wanda White directed the musical numbers.

The Rev. Clifford L. Tierney will read the Christmas story from the Bible assisted by his daughter, Mary Ann.

Live animals will add to the reality of the settings and a host of heralding angels will be resplendent in glittering array atop the church chapel.

Succulent Society Celebrates Yule

Mrs. Raymond E. Arnold, president of the Metropolitan Cactus and Succulent Society, entertained the board of directors at a Christmas party in her home.

Games were played and gifts exchanged. Decorations were poinsettias, pryacantha and holly.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Dooca, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huey, George Martini, Ethel M. Jones, Virginia Hugley and Mmes. James Weaver, H. E. Pinya and Gerald R. Peugh.

Christmas Topic Scheduled at Narbonne Baptist

"Christmas in the House or the Heart" will be the topic of the Rev. Robert A. Wells' address at 8:30 and 10:50 a.m. service Sunday in the Narbonne Ave. Baptist Church.

Rev. Wells will discuss the X that has replaced Christ in Christmas and the possibility of future generations forgetting the reason for the holiday season.

The church's White Christmas service will take place at 7:30 p.m. Members of the congregation will bring food for distribution among needy families in the area.
